Our annual women's event brings awareness to topics that are too often buried from sight. Last year we heard of personal love stories that brought us to tears, that challenged us to lower our mask and dared us to be real.

This year our panel of real women of all ages will share how hope and healing help them move beyond their pain. Whether they have been dealing with physical or emotional pain, struck down in grief and loss, struggling with depression and questioning how to go on... we witness the beauty in their pain that helps us all to unmask the truth.

The 2016 Unmasking the Truth – beauty beyond the pain – event coincides with this year's International Women's Week. We invite you to join us.
